

Dear Ryan,

I am so sorry that I have made the choice that I made. You are the most wonderful child any father could ever have. I know things are tough because of your mother, but please be strong and understand that we really only have ourselves in this life.

I hope that you are able to move on with your life and do great things. I am truly sorry that I can't be there to see it happen.

Remember, you only have yourself in this life. Everyone else always has their own self interest first in line.

Love,
your father
